A. S. ABELL CO., Publishers, BALTIMORE. THE PAPER FOR THE PEOPLE.

On the 17th of May, 1887, the Baltimore Sun will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary. From the earliest period of its career the Sun has been a "household word" in the homes of its subscribers, and a synonym for accuracy of statement, fair dealing, prompthess, energy and enterprise in the collection of news. It is noted throughout the country for the independence, conservatism and thoughtfulnes of its celibral utterances. There is probably no newspaper in the United States whose opinion carries more weight or whose influence is more widely extended than the Sun's, a fact upon which it may justly pride itself as the legitimate result of painstaking care in the preparation of all matter admitted to its columns. The Sun's faculties for collecting news from all quarters of the globe are being constantly extended and improved, and now features are added without regard to expense as the occasion demands.

The Baltimore Weekly Sun has long occupied an enviable position as a model family newspaper, containing not only the news of the world and a variety of literary matter and miscellancous reading for the family circle, but special features of reegnized value, including an agricultural department, which supplies every week a mass of well-digested information for the tarmer.
